Cavallaro Give $10,000 Donation To Foundation Drive

A gift of $10,000 has been made to kick off the 1979 fund-raising campaign for the Potomac State College Foundation, Inc.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Cavallaro of Conover, NC have made the contribution with the stipulation that it be used to benefit the Division of Natural and Physical Sciences and Mathematics at the college.

Dr. Cavallaro, a native of Westernport, is associated with the Catawba Valley Ear, Nose, and Throat Clinic, Inc., in Hickory, NC. His wife is the former Harriett Ahern of Keyser. Both were members of the Class of 1949.

The 1979 Foundation campaign letter is enclosed with this issue of the NEWSLETTER.

Foundation Oks Name Change, Expands Role of Service to PSC

At their May meeting, the board of directors of the Potomac State College Alumni Foundation, Inc., gave approval to changing the name of the organization to the Potomac State College Foundation, Inc., and to an expanded role of service to Potomac State College. That name change is now official, having been approved through the Office of the Secretary of State of West Virginia.

Although the articles of incorporation which outline the purposes of the Foundation are very broad, the main activity since its inception in 1962 has been the raising of money for scholarships. The Foundation currently awards six alumni scholarships and administers the Mauzy-Harris, Anderson, McKee, Lough, Nuzum, Atwater, Landis, Miller, and Withers trusts. Its assets are over $100,000 and scholarship awards for this year total $5,250.

The change was initiated through a proposal by Executive Dean James L. McBee, Jr., at the November, 1978, board meeting and studied by the board prior to its action.

Since Potomac State's operating budget is made up entirely of state allocations, auxiliary accounts, and federal grants, there is little flexibility and rare opportunity to support special projects or programs which could enhance excellence at the college. The Foundation, while continuing the important purpose of raising money for scholarships, will expand its role in a concerted campaign to seek gifts from alumni, friends, businesses, and foundations to

Some Groups Already Plan Get-Together

Preparations have already begun for Homecoming '79 and alumni and friends of the college are reminded that now is the time to plan for that special get-together on Saturday, Nov. 3.

Presumably, the pattern will follow much the same as in the past with registration, coffee hour, homecoming parade, campus tours, football game, after-game reception, alumni banquet, and the traditional homecoming ball.

Last fall's events attracted large crowds particularly the banquet held by the Alumni Association at the Potomac Motel.

Highlighting the evening were presentation of special awards by Mrs. Isabella Clifford, Keyser, and R. E. William Noland, Greensboro, N.C., as well as reunions for the Classes of 1928 and 1953. (See separate photos).

In his annual report to the Association, Prof. Kenneth F.

Dr. McBee Given 4-H Alumni Award

Dr. James L. McBee, executive dean of Potomac State College, received the 4-H Alumni Award in the summer of 1978 from Dr. Ralph Nelson, vice provost for academic affairs at WVU.

Dr. McBee was one of four outstanding West Virginia 4-H alumni to receive the award at Jackson's Mill.

Our Apologies

The Newsletter staff regrets any embarrassment caused Mr. and Mrs. DONALD W. FRIEND (LINDA KERSEY) '70 by the report of a birth of a son on Dec. 4, 1977. However, the Friends, from Virginia Beach, Va., announced the birth of a daughter on June 29, 1978. We apologize for the error in our previous publication.

Receives Distinguished Service Award

Three Members of College Staff Retire, Another Marks 25 Years On Campus

Three members of the college staff whose total service represents 75 years retired effective June 30, 1979. They are Professor William E. Michael, Albert A. Strother, and Mrs. Wanda S. Garner.

Dr. Alan H. Paine, mathematics, celebrated his silver anniversary of service to Potomac State during the past year.

All four were honored by the Potomac State Social Club at the annual spring banquet May 4, at the Potomac Motel. Appropriately inscribed silver trays were presented to each one.

A native of Mannington, "Mike" has made countless contributions to the college, the community, and the state. He has twice served as president of the W.Va. Association of Higher Education and is a life member of NEA.

Former students will recall the fine work he did in sponsoring the Christian Youth Fellowship and Circle K since its inception on campus in 1952.

Strother joined the maintenance staff as a plumber in 1952. A Grant County native, he is a graduate of Keyser High School and was formerly employed by Celanese, B & O, and local plumbing firms. He is a US Navy veteran.

Mrs. Garner served 14 years in the business office. She attended the Morgantown Business College and worked at WVU School of Mines, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Potomac Valley Hospital prior to joining the college staff.

Dr. Paine, a native of Maine, received his AB from Gorham State and his MA and EDD from Columbia University. A member of several professional organizations, he is a past president and current secretary of the Keyser Kiwanis Club and holds membership in the Presbyterian Church.

New Scholarship Is Established To Honor Memory of Dr. Miller

A scholarship was established last summer at Potomac State College in memory of Dr. Nancy M. Miller, professor emerita of modern language, who died July 9, 1978, in Pittsburgh, PA.

Named the Nancy M. Miller Memorial Scholarship, the award was set up by Kenneth F. Haines, professor of modern languages at the college.

In making the announcement, Prof. Haines said, "I wish to honor the memory of a lady who was a master teacher. As her student, I held her in the highest esteem, and when I returned to Potomac State to teach, she became a valued colleague, counselor and friend."

Prof. Haines, continued, "Students and faculty who knew her will long remember the love and devotion Dr. Miller held for them and for Potomac State. This scholarship will

The fund, currently at about $2,600, will remain forever open to contributions from former students and friends of Dr. Miller.

The Potomac State College Foundation, Inc., is acting as administrator with all funds being placed in trust. Only the income from that trust will be used to award the scholarship, thus assuring a memorial in perpetuity.

Persons wishing to contribute to the fund should make their checks payable to the Potomac State College Foundation, Inc., designating the Miller scholarship, and mail to the Alumni Office. Donations are tax deductible.

Dr. Miller joined the faculty in 1937. She held degrees in Latin, Greek, and modern languages from the University of Pittsburgh.

She was active in community affairs, having been president of the Keyser Woman's Club and was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma Society for women in education. She attended the Keyser Presbyterian Church, where she taught a college-age Sunday School class, while maintaining membership in her home church, the East End Christian Church, in Pittsburgh.

FOUNDATION EXPANDS

provide additional support for the critical needs of the college. Specific funding categories such as scholarships, athletics, faculty development, etc., will be set up to give the donors a choice of where they wish their contributions applied.

The foundation by-laws provide for a board of directors of no less than nine nor more than 21 members. Provision is made for four members from the alumni, two members of the faculty or administration, with the Executive Dean and Alumni Affairs Director being ex officio. In addition, other alumni, businessmen, or friends of PSC will round out the board's composition. Directors will serve for a three-year term.

The purposes as set forth in the official charter are as follows: (1) to provide funds for scholarships, loans to students, endowments, educational research, prizes for scholastic and athletic achievement, improvements and additions to college facilities; (2) to engage in and promote educational, literary, scientific, charitable, philanthropic, fraternal, and benevolent activities generally; (3) to receive and use for said purposes gifts, donations, bequests, endowments, and devises; and (4) to establish, maintain, manage, handle, and administer trust funds for all of the above.

Former President Dr. E. E. Church Gets Two Awards

Former President E. E. Church, of Keyser, was honored last fall when he was presented the Order of the 35th Star by Secretary of State A. James Manchin.

The recognition is the highest award presented by the Secretary to West Virginians who have devoted more than 50 years of their lives in service to the people of the mountain state.

In May of this year Dr. Church was presented a plaque for outstanding service to the travel industry in a special spring meeting of the Potomac Highland Travel Council.

The award, the only one of its kind in the state this year, was given to Dr. Church by Council Director Jim Spicer. Dr. Church was once president of the Council but ended his term in 1972 when James T. Handlan, former head of the Biology Department and Academic Dean at PSC, took over the board of directors for the council.

Two Keyserites Named to PSC Visiting Committee

Two local residents have been named to the Potomac State College Visiting Committee for three-year terms by Executive Dean James L. McBee, Jr.

They are Mrs. Bonnie Harvey, who retired in 1976 as instructor in biology at PSC, and Nelson E. Hagerty, president of the National Bank of Keyser.

The two new members will join five other holdover appointees to form this important advisory committee for the college.

Earlier, Walter Tetrick, co-owner and publisher of the Mineral Daily News-Tribune, of Keyser, had been named to the committee by Dr. Gene Budig, president of WVU.

Library Gets Air Conditioning

After several years of planning and waiting, those who use the Mary F. Shipper Library have been able to enjoy the comforts of the new air-conditioning system.

Other renovations which bring the Library into compliance with fire regulations, include improvement of the fire alarm system, alteration of the stairways, and installation of a new exit.

Dr. Gerald R. Wilcox has accepted an appointment as assistant professor of biology, replacing Prof. William E. Michael who retired last spring.

Dr. Wilcox was graduated with a BS from Gannon College in Erie, Pa., received his MS from St. Bonaventure (NY) and his Ph.D. from WVU. He served as a teaching assistant at all three institutions.

John H. Raupach, Jr., of Cumberland, MD has been named resident assistant for Memorial Hall, replacing Branson Brown. A graduate of Fort Hill High School, he was formerly a senior director of the National Board of YMCA and managed the Ali Ghan Shrine Club in Cumberland for three years.

Mike Landis, a former Potomac State College football player who lost his life in a highway accident in March of 1978, has been honored by his sisters in the establishment of a special scholarship in his memory.

On hand for the initial announcement of the Mike Landis Football Scholarship were Glen A. Ryan, seated center, president of the Potomac State College Foundation, flanked by Landis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Landis, 80 Old Orchard Drive, Keyser. (Landis) Leighton, a sister, former cheerleader at Potomac State. Landis' two sisters made the initial contributions of $1500 each toward the scholarship.

Selection will be by the head football coach at the college who will designate his choice in writing to the Trustee, the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Keyser. Should the income from the trust increase to the extent it will support more than one recipient per year, the said coach will choose another if he so desires.

Funds for the scholarship will be paid to the Potomac State College Foundation with instructions in writing by trustee as to the recipient following specific guidelines as laid down by the Landis family. Special provisions have also been made if the football program is terminated at PSC or if, in fact, the college ceases to exist.

Landis is a graduate of Keyser High School where he played football prior to entering PSC where he was awarded the Coveted Dana G. (Horse) Lough Memorial trophy for the 1973-74 school year. Employed by the West Virginia Department of Highways as an inspector, he was active in local sports, being manager of the National Bank Braves in the Little League and a coach with the Keyser Cougars in the Queen City Area Lightweight Football League, a team he was instrumental in forming.

Former Instructor Here Named State's New Poet Laureate

Dr. Louise McNeill Pease, former instructor at Potomac State College, has been named West Virginia's new Poet Laureate.

The announcement was made by Gov. Jay Rockefeller in February of this year when he stated that Roy Lee Harman of Beckley, who had served as Poet Laureate for 41 years, would assume the title of Poet Laureate Emeritus.

Dr. Pease, who writes under the name of Louise McNeill and lives in Lewisburg, was officially installed at formal ceremonies in the spring at the Cultural Center in Charleston.

A native of Pocahontas County, she received her early education in rural schools to which she later returned as a teacher. She earned degrees at Concord College, Miami University of Ohio, West Virginia University and also studied at Ohio University.

She taught for 30 years in various schools including Aiken (S.C.) Preparatory School, WVU, Potomac State, Concord College, and Fairmont State. In 1973 she retired to devote more time to her writing.

Dr. Pease has published several volumes of poetry, numerous magazine articles, and has won a number of prizes

Surviving is his wife, Mrs. Ethel (McGuire) Shreve, member of the 1916 Class of Potomac State College, who was secretary to the late J. W. Stayman when he was principal and president of the school from 1919 to 1936. She also served as finance officer of the college and was secretary to the Alumni Association from 1937 to 1940.

Prof. Shreve was buried in Highland Memorial Cemetery, Knoxville.

for her poetry. Her newest book, "Elderberry Flood" is the first book to be published by the state Department of Culture and History. It tells, in poetic form, the history of West Virginia from the time before it was settled up to modern times. The book, through a joint effort between the Governor, the Department of Culture and History and the Department of Education, will be made available to all students studying West Virginia history.

Gov. Rockefeller said: "I share a tremendous admiration for Louise McNeill's sensitive poetry. She's captured the cadence of the language and the history of our people in volumes of poetry which poignantly bespeak our heritage. I deem it fitting that she chronicle the state she loves as its Poet Laureate."

Dr. Pease is married to Roger W. Pease, formerly of Ashfield, Mass. They have one son, Douglas, who lives in Storrs, Conn.
